Pav Bhaji: Ultimate Recipe Guide

Ingredients

- 3 medium potatoes (boiled)
- Cauliflower (chopped)
- 1 medium onion
- 1 medium tomato
- 1 small piece ginger
- 2-3 garlic cloves
- 1-2 green chilies
- Pav bhaji masala (as per taste)
- 2 tbsp butter
- 4-6 soft bread rolls (pav)
- Salt (to taste)
- Cilantro (a small bunch, for garnish)

- 1 lemon (optional, for serving)

Recipe Instructions

1. Prepare the Vegetables

Boil the potatoes until tender. Steam or boil cauliflower until soft. Finely chop onion, tomato, ginger, garlic, and green chili.

2. Cook the Bhaji

- Heat butter in a large pan.
- Sauté onions, ginger, garlic, and green chili until fragrant and translucent.
- Add chopped tomatoes and cook until soft and pulpy.
- Add boiled potatoes and cauliflower, mashing them well to create a thick, chunky mixture.
- Stir in pav bhaji masala and salt to taste.
- Cook on medium heat, stirring continuously, for 7-10 minutes, allowing the flavors to blend.

3. Prepare the Pav

- Heat a flat pan or griddle.
- Slit the pav bread horizontally.
- Spread butter on the cut sides and toast them on the pan until golden and slightly crisp.

4. Garnish and Serve

- Garnish the bhaji with chopped cilantro.
- Serve hot with toasted pav and lemon wedges on the side for an optional tangy flavor.

Leftover Tips & Bonus Snack Recipe

Two common leftovers after preparing Pav Bhaji:

- Cauliflower (a whole head often exceeds required volume)
- Soft bread rolls (pav) (not all may be used at once)

Bonus Snack: Cauliflower Pav Toasties

Ingredients:

- Leftover steamed and finely chopped cauliflower
- 2 bread rolls (pav), sliced in half
- 1 small onion, finely chopped

- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 green chili, finely chopped (optional)
- 1 tbsp butter
- Pav bhaji masala (to taste)
- Salt (to taste)
- A few cilantro leaves, chopped
- Grated cheese (optional)

Instructions:

1. Heat butter in a pan. Sauté onion, garlic, and green chili until translucent.
2. Add finely chopped cauliflower, pav bhaji masala, and salt. Cook for 3-4 minutes until well combined and the mixture is slightly dry. Stir in chopped cilantro.
3. Spread the cauliflower mixture evenly on the cut sides of the bread rolls.
4. Optionally, sprinkle grated cheese on top.
5. Place the stuffed rolls on a hot pan or griddle. Butter the outside and toast until golden brown and crisp.
6. Serve warm as a spicy, flavorful snack.

Enjoy this delicious way to minimize waste and create another flavorful treat!

Enjoy your Pav Bhaji meal and happy
